Environment May Eclipse Vietnam as College Issue

By GLADWIN HILL

Special to The New York Times

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 29 — "We want to stop the war, end pollution—and beat Stanford!" yelled a Berkeley pep leader at last weekend's big football rally.

The mention of pollution brought a roar of approval from a University of California crowd of 5,000 that almost drowned out the reference to the big game.

Rising concern about the "environmental crisis" is sweeping the nation's campuses with an intensity that may be on its way to eclipsing student discontent over the war in Vietnam.

This is indicated by interviews with students. "The environmental crisis is a real problem," said a student at the University of California, Berkeley. "It's a real crisis, and it's a real problem."

There is a growing feeling on the campuses that the war will be liquidated due to environmental crisis. Meanwhile, it is physically impossible to fight the war. And, in the wake of the big protest, many students feel that the war offers only a limited scope for student action.

But the dominant theme of the nation's "quality of life" is a pervasive, here-and-now, long-term problem that students of all political shadings can sink their teeth and energies into. And they are doing it.

A national day of observance of environmental problems, analogous to the mass demonstrations on Vietnam, is being planned for next spring, with Congressional backing.

From Maine to Hawaii, students are seizing on the environmental ills from water pollution to the global population problem, campaigning against them, and pitching in to do something about them.

"A ground swell of concern is starting, on everything from population and food supply to the preservation of natural areas," commented Dr. Edward Clebsch, assistant professor of botany at the University of Tennessee.

"I've been floored by the intensity of their actions and feelings," said Dr. Vincent Arp, a Bureau of Standards physicist close to the University of Colorado at Boulder. "The student group is going like a bomb."

and suggestions regarding this sub-committee of the faculty Curriculum and Instruction Committee. Since last May to discuss a Pass-Fail system for Madison. They have done considerable research on Pass-Fail systems at other colleges. The committee has submitted a joint proposal to the Faculty Curriculum and Instruction Committee for approval. The purpose of rationale for a pass-fail option is to encourage students to explore areas of interest and reduce a quietestommi from grade competition. The committee recommends that a pass-fail option be adopted on an experimental basis and that a very careful attempt be made to evaluate

THE STUDENT HANDBOOK AND THE NEW CHARTER

Recently, several concerned students held a meeting to discuss the Student Handbook. SGA, the student body, decided to represent the students by making good this opportunity to hear expressed--FIRST--the students' legitimate (and not exaggerated) gripes about this important element of the college life.

Bob Ray, chairman of SGA's Rules Review Committee (the function of which is to review rules and changes to any rule) will be the student body's representative by SGA Rules Review Committee Chairman Bob Ray, chairman of SGA's Rules Review Committee. The proposed changes to the handbook are a joint effort of the student body and the faculty. Your comments on any of the changes are welcome. Send your comments to the SGA office. many a man who was tall and strong as kneeled to pray for many a wrong no man is so humble as not to cry for those who don't, inside they die.

class of '72 . . . a class with ambition

president: linda loughery

class of '72 . . . a class with high ambitions, high hopes . . . prepared for possible failure and defeat in life's maze of challenges and problems . . . "with it" in all modes of living: dress, music, ideas and ideals, knowledge of the world . . . especially alive to people and perspectives . . . hoping always for the best solution while striving in this direction . . . egypt and israel . . . vietnam . . . abortion . . . mini, midi, maxi? . . . ecology . . . drugs . . . hard rock, bubble gum, jazz . . . elections . . . all of these concern the junior class . . . a close focus on the madison campus involves the students, too . . . a new college president . . . student union . . . fixer . . . construction of physical education facilities . . . challenging new teachers and equally demanding courses . . . class rings . . . members of the class of '72 criticize, read about, and hope to change today's world . . . this examination involves introspection, too . . . a deeper look into the character and working of each mind, each one scrutinizes the world and himself, trying to improve and up-date both.

freshmen encounter both the serious and fun-loving life of madison.

real food . . .

one of madison's many . . .

the joy of basic studies . . .

there's no telling where you will find a madison student . . .

that's good, that's really good!

"yes, i'm still here . . ."

Come see the making of power

Veeco's first commercial atomic power station is now under construction in Surry County, Virginia. In the new Information Center overlooking the site, you will see an excellent slide presentation, fascinating exhibits, and a working model of the reactor. (And from the balcony, you can watch them assemble the real thing.) Open 10 AM to 4 PM Monday through Saturday and 1 PM to 6 PM on Sunday. For tour information call 771-3194 in Richmond.

Carrier Named New President

Tennessean Succeeds Dr. G. Tyler Miller

Dr. Ronald E. Carrier of Memphis State University has been named president of Madison College effective January 1.

Dr. Carrier, the university's vice president for academic affairs, will succeed Dr. G. Tyler Miller, president since 1949. He announced his retirement last April to be effective August 31, or when a successor was chosen, but no later than June 30 of next year.

In making the announcement of the new president, Russell M. Weaver, rector of the college's board of visitors and Harrisonburg attorney said, "Dr. Carrier is a man of versity and will enable to gain new experiences that the presidency offers.

"Madison College is a usually fine educational institution and the faculty, and community leaders whom I have been in contact with have impressed me with their sincerity and their interest in the campus and its students. Madison College has obviously had directed leadership and I do my best to continue in that traditional manner."

Dr. Carrier, 38, joined Memphis State University in 1963 as director of bureau of business and economics, which he founded. He became the university's provost in 1966 and was later named as the university's academic vice president. In the latter role he worked with the board of trustees in the academic roles.

Dr. Carrier is a native of Bluff City, Tenn., and was a member of the Bluff City High School Class of 1960. He was a member of the Phi Kappa Phi Honor Society and the Phi Kappa Phi Honor Society.

If you're not part of the solution,
Then you're part of the problem.

being with you

is opening my eyes
to see how you look
when you kiss me.

it is holding hands
and my being so happy
that i squeeze your hand and my happiness is felt by you
so you squeeze back

it is watching you in turmoil after you've lost something important, but you do not show
how upset you really are,
so you hold my knee.
and i ruffle your hair.
while i sit concentrating on giving all my strength
to help you,
you notice how quiet i am,
and you ask me—
"are you angry?"
and i almost cry because i know what little strength i had
you have accepted,
although you didn't know it.

it is strobe lights and music,
vo and coke and beer,
gum,
jade east and intimate,
an open shirt and a bare chest.
silence,
a whisper,
a tickle,
a smile,
a kiss,
a touch.

it is your asking me
if i know where
the gaza strip is,
and my answering
of course, it's in japan.

it is looking down at the ocean
from high atop a mountain of coral, and watching sea gulls soaring and dipping into the water for fish and wondering—
how nice it would be to do the same.
but then feeling a movement beside me and wanting much more
to remain
just where i am.

being with you

is seeing the sun,
the stars,
night and day
for the first time.

it is feeling you are a part of the wind—
so free and uncontrollable.
the rain—
cool, refreshing,
but soon gone without a trace.
it is like an ocean wave crashing against the reef—alive and vibrant,
like the bursting sunrises
in the east—
beautiful, warming, necessary.

being with you

is counting the days
that slip by so easily and fast lasting long enough only for me to think of you and realize that my departure is one day nearer.
before the days seemed
almost unmovable,
as though they were
held by a chain.
now the links are around me.
there is nothing i can do because they are wrapped too tightly.
it hurts.
the chain now pulls away
instead of holding stationary.
how i wish that for a moment
i could be a link
because i would be a weak one.
and break the chain.
and laugh!
but instead i will go.
